How WE can help

Better Connected Beaconsfield is a new charity combining representatives from the Churches, Councils, General Practice and others, who will work together for the welfare of our community.

CORONAVIRUS SUPPORT

Being in isolation doesn't mean being alone. We can still stay connected. Learning new ways of doing so will help. How about calling a friend more often for a chat. Embrace technology like video calls. Start a hobby or finish that project.

If you'd like a friendly chat, one of our volunteers will be happy to talk to you. Call or email. We can arrange to collect shopping and medicines if that helps.

See contact details on the back page.

SUPPORTING each other

Within our community, many residents have come forward with offers to help. Better Connected Beaconsfield is co-ordinating this help by engineering a Buddy System. We are:

- Managing a register of volunteer Buddies who will provide support at street level.
- Providing guidance on appropriate contact when helping neighbours.
- Ensuring that all local groups are working together as one for support across the town offering a Community of Communities approach.

 @betterconnectedbeaconsfield

- Better Connected Beaconsfield's aim is to work together across the whole town and all groups to:
 - Support local neighbourly environments.
 - Help support your wellbeing, making it easier for you to stay fit and live well.

Better Connected Beaconsfield is here for you.
